Alyson Yaraskovitch – Winner of the Ontario Crime Analyst Network (OCAN) 2024 Outstanding Analyst of the Year

Yaraskovitch used GPS data from a suspect's phone to identify a precise location where evidence might have been dumped. Her hunch was correct—bloody clothes were found on frozen ice, crucial to securing a conviction. "If we hadn't gotten to it in time, it would have melted away."

"We're kind of the data detectives. Investigators come to us and say, 'Here's all this information and here's what we need to find.' They don't always know exactly what they need and how to go about it. That's where our analytical skills come in—to use what we have in our toolbox; analyse the raw data they hand over and pull out what's relevant and actionable."

Threatening Behaviour Towards OPS Members from 2021-2025

Central RA Autumne Cadieux & East RA Dr. Danielle Mayer. April 2025

Key findings:

- There is increasing anti-police sentiment being felt across Ottawa, as well as nationally and internationally.
- Since 2021, there have been 50 reported cases.
 - 18 VERBAL THREATS
 - 11 EMAIL HARASSMENT
 - 74% incidents occurred in Central District.
 - Motivation include officer presence at protests, race/religion and anti-police sentiment.
 - Female officers are not victims of profession-related assault, harassment or threats at a higher rate than male officers
 - It is believed that threatening behaviour toward OPS officers goes grossly underreported.

Next Step & Recommendations:

- A New Study Flag "- OH = Officer Harassment/Threat" has been created based on this research for trend tracking and early threat alerts.
- A Dashboard is in development for alert purposes and will be accessible to Chain of Command (CoC)
- Potential Protocol/Policy Recommendations
- Safety Protocols and Training
