Que le Comité des services communautaires et de protection recommande au Conseil d’approuver la proposition visant à nommer un nouveau parc au 130, place Woodbine, « parc Percy-Taverner »

BACKGROUND

The Commemorative Naming Policy, approved by City Council on July 24, 2002, outlines the criteria and process for commemoratively naming municipal streets, parks and facilities (or parts thereof).

With respect to criteria, a commemorative name honours individuals who are (or have been) citizens of the City of Ottawa or who have made a specific contribution to the City of Ottawa and:

- Demonstrated excellence, courage or exceptional service to the citizens of the City of Ottawa, the Province of Ontario and / or Canada;
- Provided extensive community service, or who have an extraordinary community service record;
- Worked to foster equality and reduce discrimination;
- Where the nominated individual is a current City employee, the individual shall have made an outstanding contribution to the City of Ottawa outside of his/her capacity and duties as a City employee or they may be recognized for their exceptional service once they are no longer a City employee;
- The nominated individual has made a significant financial contribution to a park or facility and the contribution significantly benefits the community that the park or facility serves (i.e. the park or facility may not have otherwise been possible without the financial assistance);
- The nominated name has historical significance to the community, City of Ottawa, Province of Ontario, or Canada.

Any member of the public or City Council may submit a name to the City for consideration through a formal Commemorative Naming application and supporting material.

Staff review the name against other criteria (e.g. potential issues for 9-1-1, whether there is an existing commemoration for the same nomination, etc.) and if there are no issues of this nature, forwards the nomination to the Commemorative Naming Committee (consisting of the City Clerk and Solicitor, the Chief Building Official, the General Manager, Parks, Recreation and Cultural Services, the General Manager, Public Works, the Mayor and the Ward Councillor or their respective designates); the Commemorative Naming Committee (CNC) reviews the formal application.

As part of the process, the CNC, consisting of applicable City staff, the Mayor and affected Members of Council, provides an initial approval based on the policy's criteria and the information provided by the nominator. Staff is then directed to ensure there is community support for the choice by initiating a 30-day public consultation phase.

Following the consultation process, the CNC reviews the public feedback and makes a final recommendation on the nomination, which is subsequently considered by the appropriate Standing Committee and City Council. In cases where no public objections are received, proposals are brought directly to Standing Committee and Council without the need for a second CNC meeting.

DISCUSSION

Ted Sypniewski and Fenja Brodo submitted an application to commemorate Percy Taverner. Under the proposal, a new park at 130 Woodbine Place would be named "Percy Taverner Park".

The CNC met on April 13, 2015 to review the application and endorsed the proposed name under the following criterion:

- The nominated individual has demonstrated excellence, courage or exceptional service to the citizens of the City of Ottawa, the Province of Ontario and/or Canada.

The CNC reconvened on June 10, 2015 to review the public feedback and make a final recommendation on the nomination.

RURAL IMPLICATIONS

There are no rural implications associated with this report.

CONSULTATION

An integral part of the Commemorative Naming Process is public consultation on the proposed name. On April 17, 2015, the City announced a 30-day public consultation on the proposed name. The relevant information was communicated through a public service announcement and posted to Ottawa.ca.

By May 16, 2015, the Clerk's office had received two (1) responses: one (1) in support and one (1) in opposition.

COMMENTS BY THE WARD COUNCILLOR(S)

Councillor Chernushenko provided the following comment, in support of this proposal:

Extensive consultation led to several naming proposals. Percy Taverner was proposed by residents who highlighted his local connection, as well as his contribution to the wider world in several areas of scientific research and practice, most notably ornithology. Following multiple appeals for comment through articles, community meetings and email lists, this naming proposal received the greatest community support. I am pleased to support naming a park after an accomplished “regular citizen”.

Financial costs associated with purchasing a plaque and/or hosting a naming ceremony are provided through the City Clerk and Solicitor’s operating budget.

While demand has outpaced resources for several years, the practice has been to accommodate the commemorations within the $20,000 annual budget and Members of Council and the public are made aware that, once the budget has been spent in any given year, any events will need to carry over into the next year

Percy Taverner Park – (Ward 17 – Capital)

In recognition of Percy Taverner's demonstrated excellence and exceptional service, the City of Ottawa has been asked to name a new park at 130 Woodbine Place "Percy Taverner Park".

A summary of the proposal, submitted by Ted Sypniewski and Fenja Brodo, is provided below:

Percy A. Taverner (1875-1947) was a distinguished and internationally honoured biologist, a pillar of the Ottawa naturalist community and in 1911, he became the first ornithologist for the Natural History branch of the National Museum of Canada (now the Canadian Museum of Nature). He was President of the Ottawa Field Naturalists' Club in the 1930s and was substantially responsible for the survival of this organization and its journal, The Canadian Field-Naturalist, which he founded.

Percy lived at 45 Leonard, which is very close to the new park site. Besides being an ornithologist, he was a conservationist well before most people were concerned with the environment. His conservation work was instrumental in the creation of Point Pelee National Park. He wrote what was then the seminal work in Canadian ornithology, The Birds of Canada.

Before becoming a naturalist, Percy studied architecture and designed several houses on Rosedale and Leonard avenues.
