INQUIRIES

Councillors C. McKenney and S. Menard

Since the beginning of this term of Council, division has been fostered through committee appointments which ignore broad regions in Ottawa for political purposes.

This has meant that our non-partisan based Municipality, within a large amalgamated city, has not functioned as well as it should.

The makeup of FEDCO does not represent the regional complexities of Ottawa nor the tax base.

When we look at the infrastructure in our city, the contentious debates we have had, and the core economic drivers, these are predominantly located in the centre of the city, which go unrepresented on the municipal finance committee.

The process is flawed with discussion and debate shut down when members try to ask questions about appointments.

The question arises, why are appointments and power being afforded in this way? Is it based on qualifications of who can do the best job for our entire city?

The Municipal Act is clear in its directions regarding Councillors roles. Are we being good stewards of the whole municipality by doing this? Are we being representative of the whole city by doing this? Are we being the best possible policymakers by excluding entire regions of the city?

What professional suggestions can the Clerk's office offer to restore balance in our municipality, to return a regionally representative, less divisive, Council, each independently elected to bring both a City-wide and local perspective to the table?
