THE MOTION

- CPO/OPS Street Violence and Gang Strategy
- Overview of gang activity in Ottawa
- Recent statistics relating to gun violence
- Our neighbourhood policing strategy
- Grant applications for integrated deployment
- Gun Buy Back programs & CCTVs

STREET VIOLENCE AND GANG STRATEGY

- Identified a four-pillar approach to reducing/eliminating gun violence in partnership with Crime Prevention Ottawa.
 - Neighbourhood Cohesion: Build resilient children, families in affected neighbourhoods through positive relationships.
 - Prevention: Leverage inclusive and preventative approaches through social development, education and community policing.
 - Intervention: Identify intervention opportunities for children, youth and adults, including those most at risk.
 - Enforcement & Suppression: Traditional targeted, sustained enforcement initiatives.

OVERVIEW OF GANG ACTIVITY

- Gang activity continually changing; has moved away from being geographically based.
 - Now focused more on commodities: drugs, guns
- The bottom line is profit, driven by greed, city-wide. (New trend/gang structure all across the country).

PROACTIVE RESULTS IN 2019/2020

GUN BUY BACK

- We have tried programs like Pixels for Pistols, but is not evidence-based best-practice for crime prevention.
 - Efficacy is low.
 - Has significant public safety issues.
 - Resources can be better used in crime prevention initiatives.
 - Ottawa residents who want to turn in legal guns to OPS can already do so.
 - Handgun ban

- OPS is not opposed to CCTV cameras, but they have not been proved to be an evidence-based best-practice for crime prevention, with limited success for post-crime investigations.
- Would rather invest that money into customized NRTs or city services.

Visible and accessible in reighbourhoeds via foot and bike patrols to build.Susteringthen relationships in the community.

Work with community partners/leaders/stakeholders to enhance safety initiatives and customize approach.

CITY DRIVEN COMMUNITY SAFETY & WELLBEING PLAN

NEIGHBOURHOOD ENGAGEMENT & SAFETY TABLES (NEST)

- Expands on the City's Community Safety and Well-Being Plan.
- Must be deployed with support at the federal, provincial and municipal level.
- NEST teams will leverage City services for a whole-ofcommunity approach to reducing/eliminating street violence.
- Backed up by research that shows a fully integrated systems approach works well.

PURSUING MULTI-LEVEL FUNDING

- Developing grant requests with partners:
 - Federal, Provincial, Municipal.
- Framed around the City's Community Safety & Well-Being plan.
 - Incorporates provincial CSWB mandate.
- Specifically directed at eliminating street and gang violence.
 - Early identification of people in need and getting them the proper supports.
 - Youth outreach workers, social workers, employment services, healthcare specialists and community police officers.
