What is Employee Engagement?

Employee engagement is a positive, energized state of mind that stems from both a logical and an emotional investment of personal energy that is absorbed in and focused on transforming a work task, a team goal and/or an organization outcome into a meaningful business objective.

Linking Engagement To Business Outcomes

Summary of Key Insights

Summary of Key Insights

Survey Response and Context

- 56% participation is substantially below most large organizations (-10 from benchmark) and represents continuing decline from 72% achieved in 2015. However, it is at a respectable level and should raise no concerns about reliability or validity of results.
- Survey was conducted during broader context of recent social protests, COVID-19 pandemic, tension with OPA and period of transition for policing sector.

Engagement

- Overall engagement is 43%, which is markedly below benchmark (-27) and represents a 5-point decline since 2018.
- Top three key drivers of engagement are Professional Growth at 50% favourable (+2 from 2018; -21 from benchmark), Organizational Performance at 19% (+4 from 2018; no benchmark) and Executive Command at 25% (+4 since 2018; no benchmark).
- Decline in overall engagement appears largely due to decline in employee pride in telling people about being a member of OPS (-11), likelihood of recommending OPS as an employer (-6) and optimism about the future of the organization (-5). Impact of growing anti-law enforcement movement, critical media, etc., appear to have overshadowed impact that improvements in internal dynamics and key drivers would normally have on these specific engagement items.

Historical Shifts and Comparisons to Benchmark

- 11 of the 15 dimensions for which we have historical comparisons are at or above 2018 scores, although all 11 are single digit increases (i.e., less than 10%).
- Only 4 dimensions declined since 2018: Teamwork (-9), Engagement (-5), External Stakeholders/Partnerships (-3) and Workforce Management (-1).
- Immediate Supervisor is most favourable dimension at 76%, representing 3% increase from 2018 and +4 above benchmark.
- Although overall results show clear progress since 2018, 6 of the 7 dimensions for which we have a benchmark comparison are substantially lower than the benchmark: Senior Officers (-31), Engagement (-27), Information and Communication (-26), Performance Management (-24), Professional Growth (-21) and Teamwork (-11).
- Considering benchmark comparisons and key driver strength, greatest opportunities for improvement are Organizational Performance, Executive Command, Senior Officers and Workforce Management.
- Considering benchmark comparisons and key driver strength, greatest opportunities to leverage and expand are Professional Growth, Employee Wellness and External Stakeholders/Partnerships.

Rank and Role

- Constables have the least favourable views compared to other ranks.
- Civilian members are generally more favourable than sworn members. However, civilian members are less favourable about Teamwork, Immediate Supervisor, Middle Management, Ethical Behaviour and Respectful Workplace. They are more favourable about Senior Officers and Executive Command.

Gender and Sexual Orientation

- Female members are somewhat less favourable than male members, particularly in the perceptions of the Immediate Supervisor, Middle Management and Ethical Behaviour. A very unusually high percentage (13%) of those who responded to the gender question chose the “prefer not to answer” option.
- A high percentage (18%) of those who responded to the sexual orientation question chose the “prefer not to answer” option. A very small percentage chose any of the non-heterosexual responses. Nevertheless, lesbian members (n=9) and bisexual members (n=16) are less favourable than their other colleagues.

Race, Ethnicity and Indigenous Status

- Mixed Race and Middle Eastern members are generally less favourable than other race groups. Black employees are less favourable about their Immediate Supervisor and Middle Management but more favourable about Executive Command. An unusually high percentage (18%) of those who responded to the race question chose the “prefer not to answer” option.
- In general, Indigenous members are less favourable than their non-Indigenous colleagues.

Age and Length of Service

- Younger and older members are more favourable than their middle-aged colleagues.
- Members with less than 5 years of service are most favourable.

Disability Status

- Members with a disability are less favourable than those with no disability. A fairly sizeable percentage (10%) of those who responded to the disability question chose the “prefer not to answer” option.

Ethical Behaviour/Respectful Workplace/Diversity and Inclusion

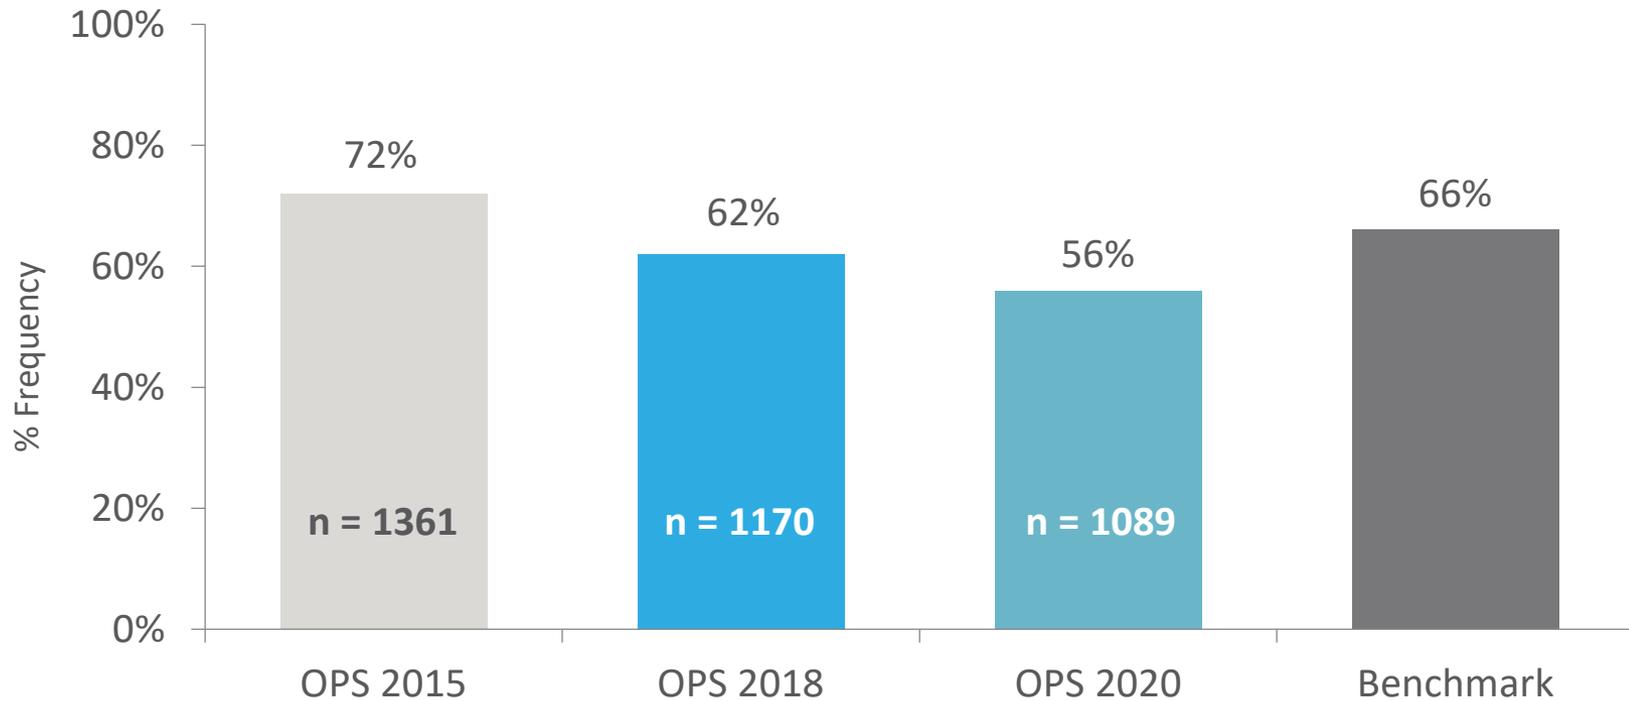

- Overall, little has changed since 2018 regarding ethical behaviour, respectful workplace and diversity and inclusion, with most (78%) indicating their supervisor sets a good example but only 31% believing that unethical behaviour is addressed in an effective, fair and timely manner.
- 19% of respondents indicate they have experienced harassment in the past 12 months. Of the 203 respondents who chose to indicate the type of harassment, 64% indicated psychological harassment, 37% abuse of authority and 19% racial harassment.
- Only 18% indicate submitting an official report regarding harassment. Of the 142 respondents who chose to comment on why they did not submit a report, most indicated it would not help or resolve the issue (63%), were concerned about negative personal repercussions (61%) or were concerned about confidentiality (42%).
- A relatively smaller percentage (12%) indicate they have experienced workplace discrimination. Of the 131 respondents who indicated the type of discrimination they experienced, 33% said race, 25% sex, 15% disability and 14% age.
- Only 10% indicate submitting an official report regarding discrimination. Of the 99 respondents who indicated why they did not submit a report, most felt nothing would happen (75%), feared reprisal (52%) or had concerns about confidentiality (29%).
- 32% of members indicate witnessing unethical conduct or behaviour. Of the 353 respondents who indicated what action they took, 51% said they supporting the affected person, 40% said they intervened to stop or correct it and 29% said they reported it.

Summary of Key Insights

Summary of Key Insights

Survey Response and Context

- 56% participation is substantially below most large organizations (-10 from benchmark) and represents continuing decline from 72% achieved in 2015. However, it is at a respectable level and should raise no concerns about reliability or validity of results.
- Survey was conducted during broader context of recent social protests, COVID-19 pandemic, tension with OPA and period of transition for policing sector.

Engagement

- Overall engagement is 43%, which is markedly below benchmark (-27) and represents a 5-point decline since 2018.
- Top three key drivers of engagement are Professional Growth at 50% favourable (+2 from 2018; -21 from benchmark), Organizational Performance at 19% (+4 from 2018; no benchmark) and Executive Command at 25% (+4 since 2018; no benchmark).
- Decline in overall engagement appears largely due to decline in employee pride in telling people about being a member of OPS (-11), likelihood of recommending OPS as an employer (-6) and optimism about the future of the organization (-5). Impact of growing anti-law enforcement movement, critical media, etc., appear to have overshadowed impact that improvements in internal dynamics and key drivers would normally have on these specific engagement items.

Historical Shifts and Comparisons to Benchmark

- 11 of the 15 dimensions for which we have historical comparisons are at or above 2018 scores, although all 11 are single digit increases (i.e., less than 10%).
- Only 4 dimensions declined since 2018: Teamwork (-9), Engagement (-5), External Stakeholders/Partnerships (-3) and Workforce Management (-1).
- Immediate Supervisor is most favourable dimension at 76%, representing 3% increase from 2018 and +4 above benchmark.
- Although overall results show clear progress since 2018, 6 of the 7 dimensions for which we have a benchmark comparison are substantially lower than the benchmark: Senior Officers (-31), Engagement (-27), Information and Communication (-26), Performance Management (-24), Professional Growth (-21) and Teamwork (-11).
- Considering benchmark comparisons and key driver strength, greatest opportunities for improvement are Organizational Performance, Executive Command, Senior Officers and Workforce Management.
- Considering benchmark comparisons and key driver strength, greatest opportunities to leverage and expand are Professional Growth, Employee Wellness and External Stakeholders/Partnerships.

Rank and Role

- Constables have the least favourable views compared to other ranks.
- Civilian members are generally more favourable than sworn members. However, civilian members are less favourable about Teamwork, Immediate Supervisor, Middle Management, Ethical Behaviour and Respectful Workplace. They are more favourable about Senior Officers and Executive Command.

Gender and Sexual Orientation

- Female members are somewhat less favourable than male members, particularly in the perceptions of the Immediate Supervisor, Middle Management and Ethical Behaviour. A very unusually high percentage (13%) of those who responded to the gender question chose the “prefer not to answer” option.
- A high percentage (18%) of those who responded to the sexual orientation question chose the “prefer not to answer” option. A very small percentage chose any of the non-heterosexual responses. Nevertheless, lesbian members (n=9) and bisexual members (n=16) are less favourable than their other colleagues.

Race, Ethnicity and Indigenous Status

- Mixed Race and Middle Eastern members are generally less favourable than other race groups. Black employees are less favourable about their Immediate Supervisor and Middle Management but more favourable about Executive Command. An unusually high percentage (18%) of those who responded to the race question chose the “prefer not to answer” option.
- In general, Indigenous members are less favourable than their non-Indigenous colleagues.

Age and Length of Service

- Younger and older members are more favourable than their middle-aged colleagues.
- Members with less than 5 years of service are most favourable.

Disability Status

- Members with a disability are less favourable than those with no disability. A fairly sizeable percentage (10%) of those who responded to the disability question chose the “prefer not to answer” option.

Ethical Behaviour/Respectful Workplace/Diversity and Inclusion

- Overall, little has changed since 2018 regarding ethical behaviour, respectful workplace and diversity and inclusion, with most (78%) indicating their supervisor sets a good example but only 31% believing that unethical behaviour is addressed in an effective, fair and timely manner.
- 19% of respondents indicate they have experienced harassment in the past 12 months. Of the 203 respondents who chose to indicate the type of harassment, 64% indicated psychological harassment, 37% abuse of authority and 19% racial harassment.
- Only 18% indicate submitting an official report regarding harassment. Of the 142 respondents who chose to comment on why they did not submit a report, most indicated it would not help or resolve the issue (63%), were concerned about negative personal repercussions (61%) or were concerned about confidentiality (42%).
- A relatively smaller percentage (12%) indicate they have experienced workplace discrimination. Of the 131 respondents who indicated the type of discrimination they experienced, 33% said race, 25% sex, 15% disability and 14% age.
- Only 10% indicate submitting an official report regarding discrimination. Of the 99 respondents who indicated why they did not submit a report, most felt nothing would happen (75%), feared reprisal (52%) or had concerns about confidentiality (29%).
- 32% of members indicate witnessing unethical conduct or behaviour. Of the 353 respondents who indicated what action they took, 51% said they supporting the affected person, 40% said they intervened to stop or correct it and 29% said they reported it.

In the past 3 years, I think that the level of respect in our workplace has:

Key Takeaways on Directorate

- The combined group of Executive Services/Office of the Chief/Respect Values and Inclusion/Planning Performance and Analytics is less favorable than the other Directorate groups for 8 of the 15 survey dimensions, particularly regarding access to resources (-18), the immediate supervisor (-11), performance management (-10), ethical behaviour (-9) and respectful workplace (-9).
- Corporate Support, Support Services and the combined group of Executive Services/Office of the Chief/Respect Value and Inclusion/Planning, Performance and Analytics view teamwork, their immediate supervisor and middle management less favourably than other directorate groups.
- Senior Officers and Executive Command are viewed least favorably by Criminal Investigations, Frontline Operations and the Planning, Performance and Analytics groups.
- Although the Planning, Performance and Analytics group is relatively small (N=24), they are less favourable than OPS overall on all 16 dimensions, particularly regarding access to resources (-44), immediate supervisor (-26), information and communication (-19), ethical behaviour (-19), respectful workplace (-19) and senior officers (-18).
- Workforce Management is the lowest scoring of all dimensions in the survey at only 13% favourable. A very small percentage are favourable about any aspect of the selection and promotion process. Scores are particularly low for Criminal Investigation, Frontline Operations, Community Relations and Frontline Specialized Support, and Planning, Performance and Analytics.
- For all but one directorate, the percentage of employees who feel that respect in the workplace has decreased over the past 3 years is greater than the percentage who feel it has increased.

Ethical Behaviour/Respectful Workplace/ Diversity and Inclusion by Role

■ Decreased     
 ■ Remained the same     
 ■ Increased

In the past 3 years, I think that the level of respect in our workplace has:

Key takeaways on Role

- Civilian members are less favourable than sworn members about teamwork, their immediate supervisor and middle management. However, they are more favourable about senior officers and executive command.
- Civilian members are generally less favourable about ethical behaviour and respectful workplace than sworn members.
- Sworn constables are less favourable than OPS overall for 12 of the 16 survey dimensions.
- Sworn constables, sworn special constables and sworn sergeants are less favourable than other members about nearly all aspects of the selection and promotion processes.
- Civilian members are particularly less favourable about the organization treating OPS and/or community members with dignity and respect.
- For all but two roles, the percentage of employees who feel that respect in the workplace has decreased over the past 3 years is greater than the percentage who feel it has increased. Civilian Senior Officers are particularly concerned about this issue with half feeling that the level of respect has decreased

Harassment and Discrimination by Tenure

Key Takeaways on Age & Tenure

- The pattern of results by age are very typical for large organizations. The youngest and oldest members are more favourable than other age groups.
- The pattern of results by length of service also is very typical for large organizations. Specifically, there is a “honeymoon” phase for those newest to the organization. Following that initial phase, member perceptions decline a bit and remain rather consistent across the other age groups.
